Mercury Drops to 16 Degrees, Winter's Worst

Total Decline of 50 Degrees Since Sunday Afternoon

Tuesday Colder Than Monday, Beating December's Low Mark

WORST HAS PASSED

Weather Man Forecasts Fair and Warmer Temperatures Wednesday

Tuesday morning greeted southwest Arkansas with the coldest weather of this winter, the mercury dropping to 16½ degrees.

The previous low of 1934 was 26 degrees, Monday morning, and the lowest previous figure this winter was 22 degrees, in the cold snap of last December.

The new low of 16½ was a total drop of 49½ degrees from last Sunday's spring-like temperature of 66.

The weather man forecasts fair and warmer for Wednesday, indicating that the northern blasts are receding all over the nation.

Coldest of New Year

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—Arkansas experienced its coldest wave of winter Monday night, with the mercury dropping as low as 12 degrees in some portions during the day, but with rising temperatures forecast for Tuesday.

The temperature here Monday night was 24, with predictions that it would drop to 13 during the night.

The state's lowest recording was at Bentonville, where a low of 12 degrees was recorded early Monday, a drop of 47 degrees since Sunday.

Fort Smith experienced a low of 20 degrees early in the day, and Hot Springs 22 degrees.

By the Associated Press

A cold wave covered most of the United States Monday night. Temperatures which early Monday dropped below the zero mark in many sections, had recovered only a few points but the general forecast was that the worst had been passed. An exception was New England, where colder weather was forecast.

At Chicago a low of seven below zero was recorded.

Mild relief came to Minnesota, where in some sections a temperature decline of 71 degrees in 36 hours had been reported. At St. Paul, a low of 19 below was reached. In Michigan, with the exception of Detroit, sub-zero weather was general.

In Canada many points recorded lows of 40 below or more, notably The Pas, 44 below and Minnedosa, Man., 40 below.

Only the Pacific coast and the extreme Southern states escaped the cold wave. Freezing weather was reported as far south as Atlanta.

The wave was not disturbing to Florida where temperature readings at mid-afternoon Monday included 56 at Jacksonville, 70 at Miami and 78 at Key West.

6th Louisiana Seat Declared Vacant

Congress Refuses to Seat Either Mrs. Kemp or J. Y. Sanders, Jr.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Monday approved the report of an election committee which found that neither Mrs. Bolivar E. Kemp nor J. Y. Sanders, Jr. was legally elected to represent the Sixth Louisiana district.

The house then tossed back into the district the fight for the seat waged for more than six months between the forces of Senator Huey P. Long and those who are attempting to destroy his political machine.

A record vote was not taken.

Mrs. Kemp was elected without a primary December 5 at an election called by Gov. O. K. Allen. She was the sole candidate named by the district Democratic Executive Committee. Sanders was named December 27 at an election called in protest by a Citizens Committee.

Since Mrs. Kemp appeared in the capital with her certificate of election, Long has kept in the background.

House action Monday was expected to result in the Sixth district seat remaining vacant during the present session. Representative Fernandez said that if the governor called an election now it could not be held until some time in April.

Flood of Birthday Greetings to F. D. R.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Roosevelt was deluged with a mighty birthday greeting from every section of the country Tuesday.

The president arranged to acknowledge his 52d anniversary in a talk over the radio at 10:20 o'clock Hope time Tuesday night.

Anne Lindbergh Is Honored on Flight

First Woman to Receive National Geographic's Gold Medal

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Anne Morrow Lindbergh was awarded Tuesday the Hubbard gold medal by the National Geographic Society for "her brilliant accomplishments as radio operator, aerial navigator and co-pilot."

She assisted her husband, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, in the recent aerial survey that carried them across the north and south Atlantic in a 25,000-mile journey.

Mrs. Lindbergh is the first woman ever to receive the medal.

Children Escape as Train Hits Bus

Cowcatcher Grabs Car Containing 29 Youngsters—None Killed

SPRINGVILLE, N. Y.—(AP)—Twenty-nine children in a smashed bus rode the cowcatcher of a locomotive for 500 feet here Monday—and none was killed.

Ten were injured, four seriously, as the locomotive ploughed into the center of the bus, crushing one side almost its entire length and hurling the children about.

No lives were lost because the bus "jammed" on the cowcatcher and was carried along until the train was stopped.

Frosted bus windows caused by an unusually cold morning were believed responsible for the accident. The driver, Walter Kummer, stopped as he reached the railroad. "Anything coming?" he asked the children. They shouted "no." An instant later the cowcatcher caught the bus.

Bettie Hartsfield Succumbs at L. R.

Funeral Service for De Ann Woman Probably Wednesday

Miss Bettie Hartsfield, 50, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hartsfield of DeAnn, died Tuesday morning in the state hospital at Little Rock.

A Hope Furniture company ambulance left Tuesday morning to return her body to Hempstead county for burial. The funeral probably will be held Wednesday.

Surviving are her mother and father, one brother, T. J. Hartsfield, Jr., DeAnn; six sisters, Miss Emma Hartsfield, DeAnn; Mrs. Claude Taylor, Hope; Mrs. J. L. O'Steen, Hope; Mrs. J. P. Queen, DeQueen; Mrs. J. H. Willis, Prescott; and Mrs. J. N. Garrett, Sutton.

MOSCOW, Russia—(AP)—A Soviet civil aviation stratosphere balloon which took off on an unannounced ascension Tuesday was reported in a message from its crew to have reached the record-breaking height of 67,585 feet.

The balloon, known as "Osoaviakhim," attained this altitude at 3:28 Hope time Tuesday morning and then started to descend.

The previous record of 62,304 feet was made by the Russian balloon "Stratostat" in September.

1,184 New Planes Ordered for Navy

U. S. to Spend 95 Millions Building Up Its Air Fleet

WASHINGTON—(AP)—More planes for the navy and a method of training youthful pilots for the nation's air force were put forward in the house Monday in separate phases of the sudden drive to build up the country's defensive weapons.

The house naval committee took the first step toward doubling the navy's number of fighting planes at the same time that Speaker Rainey was telling an anti-war delegation that he hoped there would be no war this spring between Russia and Japan but that both countries were building up their armaments.

Chairman McNamara of the house military committee introduced a bill to authorize creation of a junior air corps reserve as a civilian component of the army. In it, all physically sound youths between 18 and 21 could obtain army training to qualify them as pilots.

Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, told the committee the airplane program had been approved by the director of the budget. He said Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of the navy's Aeronautics Bureau, estimated it would take 1,184 new airplanes costing about $95,000,000 to equip the complete treaty fleet.

Shank in Appeal From Death Chair

Akron Attorney Averts Execution Scheduled for Friday

LITTLE ROCK—An appeal from the death sentence imposed upon Mark L. Shank, Akron (O.) lawyer, for the poison murders of four members of the Albert Colley family in Saline county last summer, was filed in the Arkansas Supreme Court Monday by N. A. McDaniel, attorney for Shank.

The appeal was granted by Chief Justice C. E. Johnson upon presentation of a transcript of proceedings at the trial at Benton last December.

Filing of the appeal stayed execution, set for Friday, until the case has been reviewed by the Supreme Court. A formal stay of execution was issued by the Supreme Court clerk and a copy was delivered to A. G. Steedman, superintendent of the penitentiary, by Mr. McDaniel.

The bill of exceptions enumerated 83 alleged grounds for reversal, including remarks by attorneys assisting in the prosecution; failure of the court to give certain instructions to the jury suggested by Shank's lawyers; and the giving of other instructions, over the protest of defense lawyers, relating to testimony of Dr. L. H. Brown, former superintendent of the State Hospital and other alienists.

Californians Will Play at Elks Dance

Carl Green and his 10 California Cadets will play for an Elks dance here Friday night, it was announced by Freddy Hutson.

Featured in the unit is Miss Werna Guillery, West Coast theater singer and radio artist. Another feature of the band is Miff Coy, clarinet and sax wizard and comedian.

Airport Committee to Submit Project to the City Council

The joint airport committee of Hope's civic organizations, representing the luncheon clubs, the Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion, made plans at a meeting in Hope city hall Monday night to lay before the first February meeting of the city council a tentative plan for a CWA airport project on the site of the present landing field.

Six of the nine committeemen attended, discussing lease plans for additional ground to comply with Department of Commerce regulations concerning approved airports.

Approximately $7,000 is available, according to State Supervisor Charles M. Taylor, Little Rock, in charge of airport projects, and the federal government will pay all expenses after being tendered the location either by purchase or lease.

Kansas Speech of Hoover Cabinet Officer Arouses Washington

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Politics, past and future, threatened this busy day in the national capital Tuesday.

Democratic leaders seized upon the Kansas speech of Ogden Mills, former secretary of the Treasury under President Hoover, for criticism.

Senate Democratic Leader Robinson called it the harbinger of a Republican presidential candidacy.

Arms-waving Huey Long in the senate assailed charges against him and demanded that a committee be appointed to investigate attempts to libel him.

Encouraging pats were given the Jones bill, to make cattle a basic commodity under the farm act, and the Vinson treaty navy measure.

Great Hope Fire of 50 Years Ago

Catastrophe Overwhelmed City 10 Years After Its Founding

The story of a disastrous fire 50 years ago, when the City of Hope was only 10 years old, was told Tuesday in the "News of Other Days" column of the Arkansas Gazette, the account being as follows:

Arkansas Gazette (January 29, 1884) "THE HOPE FIRE—It is not exactly known where the fire originated Sunday night. Some say in T. C. Black's building, others in L. Berg's, and still others are between the two. The fact that there was no fire in either store all day Sunday increases the probability of incendiarism, but the fact that the fire was discovered at the early hour of 7:30 p. m., is urged by many as strong proof against it. However that may be, Hope has suffered a severe loss. The fire was beyond control when first seen, and in an incredibly short time had spread to adjoining buildings. It was now thought certain that the entire town would be consumed, and the men began to move their goods on all sides. The din and confusion was indescribable. Men and women worked like beavers. The main efforts were directed towards saving Bracy & Gibson's brick drug store on the north side of Elm street, and Jones, Bryant & Co.'s brick house on the east on Second street. The flames were stopped at the latter place, but on account of their walls and a want of well directed assistance, Bracy & Gibson's house was sacrificed, and it was thought nothing could save Kempner's brick, which meant the destruction of all front street and perhaps Main. Here some excellent work was done and many is the man that 'saved the town.' The building was saved and the fire was conquered, but not until it had consumed over seventy thousand hard earned dollars of our good friends.

Following is the list of sufferers: George W. Taylor, grocer, $12,000; insurance, $5,000; T. C. Black & Co., grocer, $18,000; insurance, $3,700; L. Berg, dry goods, $18,000; insurance, $8,000; Bracy & Gibson, druggists, $3,000; insurance, $2,000; J. Hartin & Co., general merchandise, house and stock, $5,200; insurance, $3,000; T. A. Valentine, grocer, $2,500; insurance, $500; Bob Levins general merchandise, two houses and stock, $3,500; no insurance; Eubanks, saddler, $700; no insurance; C. L. Mayne, grocer, $1,200; insurance, $750; Sol. Wilson, grocer, $1,500; insurance, $500.

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—A squad of detectives and uniformed patrolmen armed with sub-machine-guns and shotguns were on guard at the municipal airport Tuesday when the plane returning John Dillinger, Midwestern desperado, in the custody of officers 16 Indiana, arrived at 12:25 o'clock this afternoon.

Dillinger, handcuffed and guarded closely by the officers accompanying him, was taken off the plane and allowed to walk around for exercise.

He refused to talk to newspaper men, and at first hid his face from cameramen until one of them asked if he couldn't "take it"—at which he smiled and consented to pose.

Lynchon was served aboard the plane, which took off again for Memphis at 12:35.

Dillinger is being returned to Indiana from Tucson, Ariz., where he was surrounded and captured last week by officers.

Outlook Is Better in Peach Market

Missouri Pacific Exhibit Train Brings Optimistic Reports

Peach growers may expect a more favorable demand for their crops, it was pointed out Monday by horticulturists visiting this city on a special Missouri Pacific peach exhibit train.

It was said by Mr. Amstein, Fayetteville horticulturist, that the unfavorable prices from 1925 to 1930 greatly reduced planting in southern states. Georgia is reported to have less than half of the Elberta trees that produced peaches in 1925.

The unusually favorable price from 1917-1924, when the crops averaged $1.76 per bushel, caused heavy plantings. In fact, 67 per cent of the trees in the commercial orchards of the South were under five years of age in 1925. In 1929 only 27 per cent were under five years. Then followed the four most disastrous years the southern peach growers ever experienced. The misfortunes further reduced orchards.

Mention was made of the fact that the three crop failures in the last four years represent three of the only eight times in thirty-five years that Arkansas production has fallen below a million bushels.

The train also carried exhibits of equipment, spray materials, fertilizers, and marketing supplies. Mr. Amstein discussed with interested growers general and special orchard problems.

The train was in charge of G. E. Riddell, agricultural agent for the Missouri Pacific railroad. It was brought here in cooperation with Frank Stanley, county agent.

To Cut U. S. Crop Loans by a Half

45 Million to Be Available This Year Instead of 100 Million

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Supporters of a 1934 crop production loan plan agreed Monday that an appropriation of $45,000,000 instead of the $100,000,000 contained in a bill now before the senate, would be sufficient to meet the needs of farmers.

Chairman Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, of the senate agriculture committee, author of the crop loan bill, made this announcement after a conference attended by Gov. W. I. Myers of the Farm Credit Administration.

Governor Myers, who advocated a loan fund of $30,000,000, said he was not in a position immediately to approve $45,000,000 as a compromise but senators and representatives present agreed to support this figure.

Smith said it was agreed that an inspection fee of 50 cents for examination of loan applications should be charged and that interest should be at the rate of 5½ per cent, the same charged last year. Individual loans would be limited to $250 with the administration having authority to increase them in exceptional cases.

Gold Devaluation Bill Law Tuesday

Roosevelt to Sign Following Quickly

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Roosevelt will sign the dollar devaluation bill Tuesday afternoon and move promptly to take over the nation's gold supply, it was announced Tuesday noon.

Until the mechanically-difficult task of taking over the more than 3 billion dollars in gold held by the Federal Reserve System is completed, he will reserve action on devaluing the dollar permanently and establishing the foreign exchange stabilization fund.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Treasury's legal experts are drafting executive orders covering all phases of the imminent change in the American monetary system and will have them ready as soon as President Roosevelt has signed the dollar devaluation bill, probably Tuesday.

Secretary Morgenthau also told newspapermen Monday that the gold of the Federal Reserve Banks, to which the measure gives the Treasury title, is, for the present at least, to be left in the banks as depositories of the government.

Morgenthau caused new speculation about possibility of currency stabilization discussions with Great Britain, by telling correspondents that hereafter he would refuse to answer questions as to whether they had been begun. He said, that no such negotiations are in progress at present.

Although he would not say exactly when the president will sign at least 40 per cent from the gold dollar, the impression prevailed that no time would be lost. Not until that has been done can the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund, with which the administration plans to regulate the foreign value of the dollar, be established.

Morgenthau declined to discuss the possibility of a currency war with Great Britain. As to the effect of such a war, Morgenthau expressed the opinion that such a conflict would be very costly to both.

German Nazi Chief Drops Royalty on First Anniversary

Enemy of Republics Also Divorces Self From the Monarchists

THE FASCIST STATE

Hitler Statement Dismisses Threat of Hohenzollerns' Return

BERLIN, Germany—(AP)—Chancellor Hitler promised Tuesday that Germany had no intentions of violating the security of Austria in a speech commemorating the first anniversary of his assumption of power.

He delivered a tirade against monarchism, definitely divorcing the aims of the Nazis from the hopes of the monarchists for the restoration of the Hohenzollerns to the German throne.

Important to Peace

Adolf Hitler's statement Tuesday was a dramatic reversal of Nazi policies as understood in many quarters outside of Germany.

From his first organization of the German National Socialist Labor party in November, 1920, Hitler or his lieutenants let it be known that they favored a highly-centralized government; and their unceasing attacks upon Germany's crumbling war-born republic led to the popular belief that the Nazis had for one of their objectives the restoration of the Kaiser's family to the imperial throne.

This was feared by the old Allies, France, England and the United States, as late as 1931, when Hitler just missed gaining control of the republic.

But with his actual election in 1933, the dictator adopted a pronounced Fascist form of government, rather than monarchial, winding up Tuesday, his first anniversary, with an outright denunciation of kings as well as republics.

Monarchists Helped Him

Contributing to the early belief that Hitler aimed to restore the Hohenzollerns was the fact that he obtained help from many of the old German war-lords, notably General von Ludendorff, with whom on November 8, 1923, he seized the city of Munich in an untimely revolt. They failed and both were tried for treason, Hitler being sentenced to a short term in prison.

But as the Nazi movement gained headway in later years it added to its Steel Helmet strength the votes of labor and agrarian interests, and marched further away from monarchial suspicion.

Hitler actually is of Austrian birth, 1889, but was naturalized a German in Bavaria, and served for Germany in the World War. He is a Catholic, commanding unprecedented popular support in the old empire which is predominantly Protestant.

The most open hostility to his regime abroad has been caused by the persecution of the Jews, one of the early Nazi creeds which has been continued since the party's succession to power.

Wine But No Liquor on White House Menu

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A statement that no distilled liquor will at any time be served in the white house, but that "there will be no fixed rules as to the serving of wine," was issued Monday by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

When wines are served, Mrs. Roosevelt said, they will be simple wines, "preference being given to American wines."

WASHINGTON—White-haired Democrats of other days still stalk about the capital, as well as young professors of the New Deal.

Scattered in the big Mayflower hotel dining room, the other night I saw large, portly Jesse Jones, little Joe Tumulty, fat Jim Hoey and honest
Clem Shaver.

Just a big joke to the Democratic party less than five years ago. Jesse is now chairman of the R.F.C. and one of the most pious gents in town.
He deals in billions.

He lured the 1928 convention to his home town of Houston, Texas, where Al Smith was nominated. Democrats left, damning him for trying to pack
the whole party into his own hotel
and laughing at his fizzly vice presidential boom.

Tumulty's name will be remembered as long as he lives, for he was secretary to Woodrow Wilson in wartime.
Now he's an obscure lawyer here, seldom heard of and quite content with that.

During the long, savage Madison Square Garden convention of '24,
Shaver labored incessantly for Dark Horse John W. Davis. Nominated,
Davis lifted his pal Clem from town practice to a West Virginia town to chairmanship of the national committee.

Shaver met inevitable defeat, then labored four years with a deficit. Now he's a "special assistant" in R.F.C.

Hoey isn't white-haired yet, but adds weight each year. An old sidekick and political manager of Smith,
he ran for a borough presidency last fall and was the one man Al Smith supported in the New York election.

Roosevelt made him New York's collector of internal revenue after his defeat, which was interpreted as a bid for Smith's friendship, but wasn't.

Then F. R. Lipp
President Roosevelt has a lower front tooth missing. Usually he wears a dummy tooth in the hole, but sometimes he forgets it. Then the result is startling. With the dummy absent, he almost lipps.

The Roosevelt necktie these days is almost invariably one of blue silk, crossed diagonally with close thin
white stripes.

Keeps Power at 75
Carrie Chapman Catt, the Iowa girl who led the women's suffrage fight for 30 years, still dominates the annual National Conference on Cause and Cure of War, at the age of 75. It's her simple, direct personality, always full of humor.

To get here on time for the conference dinner, handsome Margaret Corbett-Ashby of London, only woman delegate to the disarmament conference, had taken a navy plane from New York. And you should have heard the peace ladies grouse and gossip about that!

Many were restless during the last speech—that of Ruth Morgan, Mrs.
Catt's right-hand woman, and there was a rattle for the doors at the close.

Mrs. Catt announced that the arrangements chairman had said she must inform everyone that it wasn't proper for anyone to leave until Mrs.
Roosevelt left.

So everyone stopped in his or her tracks till the First Lady had been ushered out.

Married Flirts

by MABEL McELLIOTT

THE next day Gypsy made a lot of new resolutions. She would
"fuss more" over her own looks,
would never neglect cold creaming
rites at night, would give herself a daily manicure. Tom had seemed to find that young copy-writer very charming last night. She, Gypsy, had been considered a most delightful companion once upon a time. Where had all her amusing repartee vanished?

When the telephone rang late that afternoon and Tom's voice came to her she was pleasantly excited. Often when he called this late it was to announce that some newspaper friend had given him
second night tickets to a play.

"Yes, darling!"
But her voice dwindled; the ring of pleased expectancy died out of it. He had to work? Oh, that was too bad! She had been mentally freshening up her best black frocks, doing her hair.

Tom was sorry, he said. There was a big new account in the office. He hated leaving her alone but honestly he had to work on this stuff. She was a good sport!
It was all right, then?

Gypsy put the telephone down
with a sensation of disappointment and defeat. The long evening stretched out before her with a lonely and solitary dinner to boot. Well, it was too bad, but it couldn't be helped.

She got David ready for the night, a lovely, laughing scrap of babyhood in his ribbed nightgown.
But after he had been tucked away
in his crib, the light turned out and the windows opened, a feeling of deep forlornness swept over her.
She stood at the kitchen window,
her forehead against the cool pane,
gazing down at the lighted streets below. Far to the west she could see the lights of the gay street, Broadway. An advertising sign twinkled on and off, red and yellow, red and yellow, half a block away. Night sounds, sounds of the city throwing off its daytime mood of seriousness, making ready for play, came to her faintly. The hoating of taxis, the scrape of brakes. A radio blared out across the way. Dinner music. Somewhere down in the city men and girls were dancing to the strains of that music, were dining and smoking and laughing.

"I—I feel like Cinderella," Gypsy
said to herself, trying to smile.
But tears pricked at her eyelids.
She swallowed hard. Why, she was being just a baby! She had to eat her dinner alone, before this.
What was the matter with her?

The chop and the baked potato and the spinach all tasted like dust and ashes to her. She picked up a magazine and tried to read but the type all swam together. The stories were trite and uninteresting. What was she doing, in this strange little apartment, high up above the unceasing city, alone?
She needed laughter and good talk and the kind faces of friends.

She piled the dishes in the sink, resolving to wash them later. Slipping quietly past the bedroom in which David slept, she washed and powdered and donned her black frocks. If she had to be alone, at least she could make herself fresh and presentable. Nothing would happen—nothing ever happened to her any more. Her life was at a standstill.

The doorbell rang resoundingly,
as it in answer to this thought.
Fleeting to answer it, she cried in amazement. "Why, Hunt! Where on earth did you drop from?"

Jots Around Shover

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

Friends of Mrs. A. R. Simmons who were sorry to hear of her passing at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Homer Davidson of the Providence neighborhood, and was buried at Shover Springs cemetery last Tuesday, January 23. We extend sincere sympathy to the aged husband and sons and daughters and their families. Mrs.
Simmons has suffered intensely for several months caused from a broken hip.

children were Sunday visitors at Harold Sanford's.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Wright and children spent Saturday night with relatives in B. deaw.

Mont Shepard of Patmos called on his daughter, Mrs. Melvin Jordan Sunday.

Harold Sanford was a Hinton visitor one day last week.

Mrs. Pauline O'Neal came from Ardmore, Okla., to spend a couple of weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
H. B. Sanford during their con-valence from flu.

Mrs. Dee O. Gray and Mrs. Pauline O'Neal were Sunday guests in the home of their sister, Mrs. Dottie Bearden and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Burlo Bearden spent Sunday at the home of her father J.
W. McWilliams.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Caudle were Saturday evening visitors at Harold Sanford's.

John Reece and Milton Caudle were Sunday callers at Henry Bearden's.

Friends of Henry G. Bearden are glad to hear he is improving from a long and complicated illness.

Several enjoyed a musical at the Early McWilliams home Friday evening.

Mrs. Milton Rogers was a Saturday caller at Harold Sanford's.

Mrs. Emma Rogers and sister, Mrs.
Molly Talley are now living in their new home recently built at Shover.

Mrs. Wade E. O'Neal were Saturday
visitors of Mrs. Adell Sanford.

George Jordon and family will move to the alpha Rogers place in the near future.

Today's Pattern

by Bill Braucher

Levin's Buildup
There's good clean fun in the offing
Kingfish Levin's, the bustling buffoon from Chicago's Maxwell street mackerel salons, is to be built into a challenger for the world's heavyweight championships.

You could see that coming months ago when Pete Reilly bought for himself a piece of the Kingfish and started to teach him a few cute ring tricks. . . now when Pete sinks sugar into an enterprise you can be pretty sure it's a sound investment. . . Mr.
Reilly is an expert along those lines.

Disappointed with Max Baer because of his loyalty to Jack Dempsey, Madison Square Garden was just about ready for anything when Pete brought his peculiar punch-peddler to New York. Would him up and let the loud sound off. . . it was what Gene Tunney would say was the psychological moment when Pete pushed his sonorous slugger into the Garden door.

The Kingfish's color and noise sold him at once to Colonel Kilpatrick. . .
then, too, the Kingfish was ready to elave to the Garden for one fight or 50. . . Kilpatrick suggests a couple of brawls as buildups. . . Charley Mas-sara and Walter Neusel for opponents.

What Could Happen
It is being taken for granted that the Kingfish can get past Massera and Neusel. . . but there is some doubt in this corner concerning Herr Neusel, who happens to be a big strong boy from Germany with a whale of a wallop in both fists.

These buildups do not always turn out according to the blueprints. . . I remember several years ago when Tex Rickard started a buildup for a person named Jack Sharkey. . . for the killing, but John Risko was tired from Cleveland. . . Risko obliged by pasting candidate Sharkey's ears down and pasting them right back up again.

Tedde never could see blubbery
Jawn as a championship contender.
"He can't fight a lick," said Tedde,
"but he beats all the good ones.
Never seed nuthin' like it!"

The unexpected may not happen to the Kingfish buildup. . . but looking at this Neusel person, who is somewhat the same type of club fighter as old Jawn, this corner is entertaining some large doubts.

lative of the raccoon.

To Our President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt on His Fifty Second Birthday Anniversary

O Pilot, in that dim, distressful day
Called to the helm, you let nothing dimmy.
The Ship of State was small, though careless hands
Had let her drift too near the fatal
sands Off Folly Bank. But you knew how to steer!
"Wear Ship," and find a channel safe
and clear.
Tried no wild ways where boats of
old had wrecked;
Promised no miracles that fools expect.
But with clear eyes and hands as firm
as steel
Guided the great vessel of the Common Weal!
Accepted the help of every honest
man;
Asked not what his party nor his plan;
But sent below the selfish sordid few,
Who gambled gaily while the storm
clouds grew.
Protested the right and savings of the poor;
Made honor bright and industry secure;
Nor from your fearless mind let slip
The Navy's watchword:
"For the Good of the Ship"—Selected.

The Choral Club will meet promptly at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Carlton on East Third street.

Miss Ruth Marie Keene was the honoree at a most delightful birthday party on Saturday afternoon at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Emmet Whitten on South Grady street. Many pretty gifts were received and interesting games were enjoyed, featured by tap dancing and gymnastics by Miss Joy Ramsey. Refreshments were served to the following: Misses Carolyn Barr, Dorothy Honeycutt, Arvell

guerite Strickland and Doris and Ruth Marie Keene.

Miss Fanny Bobbit who has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Thos. Brewster for the past ten days has returned to her home in Bardonia, Ky.

Rufus Herridon Jr., entertained at a beautifully appointed dinner on Monday evening at his home on South Main street. The dining table was centered with a crystal basket of dainty spring flowers, and covers were laid for Richard Milburn, Dean Durham, Cench Teddy Jones, Assistant Coach Jimmie Jones and Rufus Herridon Jr.

The Pat Cleburne chapter U. D. C. will hold their February meeting at 2:30 Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. F. McFaddin on North Hervey street, with Mrs. R. V. Her-

Strengthened By Cardui
"Just after the birth of my son,
I was weak and nervous," writes
Mrs. W. H. Hannon, of Tulsa, Okla. "My back ached. I didn't get my strength back until I had taken Cardui. It seemed to build me up and give me strength. I was less nervous. Since that time, I was irregular. Not knowing anything better than Cardui, that is what I took, with good results. It settled my nerves, built up my strength. I have a good color, do all my work and feel fine, thanks to Cardui."

Buy Cardui at the drug store.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

HAR-RR-RUMF—NOW, AH—TO MAKE A LONG STORY SHORT, I HAVE BEEN IN THE HABIT, FOR A NUMBER OF YEARS OF DROPPING IN AT OUR PRECINCT POLICE STATION TO PLAY A FEW ROUNDS OF POKER AND PINOCHE WITH THE BOYS OFF DUTY—AND, NATURALLY, DURING THE COURSE OF TIME, I BECAME FAMILIAR WITH THE FACES ON THE POSTERS OF FLUGTIVES AND CRIMINALS WHO WERE BEING SOUGHT BY THE POLICE, AND—AH—HERE, BUSTER! WHO IS TELLING THIS STORY?

DASH YOUR RUDENESS—SPUT-T

—AND "BALTIMORE BURT," ALIAS "CAPTAIN SHANDYGAFF," WAS ONE OF TH' MUSS WANTED, ON TH' POLICE POSTERS? A CONFIDENCE MAN WHO HAS BEEN SALTING FISH AROUND TH' COUNTRY? TH' MAJOR MET HIM IN A BOWLING ALLEY, WHERE HE WAS SPINNING TH' PIRATE TREASURE WEB?

FINALLY!

By AHERN

OUT OUR WAY

HEY THERE, CRANE MAN! WHAT'S THIS CONTRAPTION HANGIN' HERE HA-AH?

WHY—UH—I—DUNNO—I WAS FIXIN' A CONTRROLLER HERE, AN' DIDN' NOTICE WHO—UH—

TH' BULL O' TH' WOODS IS A GENIUS AT HIS OWN JOB, BUT EVEN THEM BIG SHOTS LACK SOMETHIN'. THAT WAS A POLO GAME, AN' HE DON'T RECOGNIZE IT.

WELL, MAYBE HE AINT NEVER SEEN MUCH POLO—IT'S KINDA EXCLUSIVE, YOU KNOW.

THE SMART SET.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

CUT IT, OUT, NOW!

TSK-TSK! THOSE TWO!

WHY DON'T YOU BOYS STOP FIGHTIN'? DON'TCHA KNOW IT ISN'T NICE?

WELL, HE STARTED IT, THE BIG SO-AND-SO!

SAY THAT AGAIN

Smoothing Things Over!

NOW, WAIT—TAKE IT EASY! Y'GONNA KNOW BETTER! Y' MUST LEARN TO CONTROL YOURSELF!

BUT, HE CALLED YOU A GOOO-FOR-NOTHING, DIZZY-DOMED SMOOTHIE

OH, YA DID, DID YA? WELL, LEMME TELL YOU SOMETHING—

By MARTIN

ALLEY OOP

HAW, HAW! GRAND WISER, I FINALLY DONE IT! YER HISHNESS, AT-LAST WE'RE RID' MAGNIFICENT! OF ALLEY OOP! AFTER ALL OUR FAIL-URES-TO-GET SUMPIN ON HIM, HE HANGS HIMSELF! HEH-HEH! NOW YOU CAN GET HIS DINOSAUR—HEH-HEH!

HEY! WHAT'S UP? WHAT MAKES YOU HYENAS SO HILARIOUS?

HAW HAW! I JUST GOT YOUR BOY FRIEND HEAVED INTO TH' PIT!

YOU DID? WHAT FOR? WHAT'S HE DONE? I THOUGHT FOOPY WAS TH' ONE YOU WERE AFTER, FOR PULLIN' THAT PET DINOSAUR FRAUD! ON ME!

IN ON IT—AN' WHEN WE FOUND TH' DINOSAUR HIDE IN HIS CAVE, HE GOT TOUGH SO WE GLOMED ONTO HIM!

That's Different!

YOU IDIOT! THE PEOPLE WON'T STAND FOR SUCH AN OUTRAGE! THEY WORSHIP HIM! HE'S A HERO! SINGLE-HANDED, HE CAPTURED AND TAMED A DINOSAUR—RESCUED THE OOOOLA FROM THE CARDIFF GIANTS, AN' THEN SAVED ME FROM A RAGING IGUANADON!

YEAH, BUT DIDN'T HE TURN AROUND AN' MAKE A FOOL OUTA YOU WITH THE PET DINOSAUR BUSINESS?

WELL—ERR—YES, BUT WHERE'S TH' DINOSAUR?

AW, THAT'S A CINCH! HE'LL BE 'ROUND IN THE MORNING, LOOKIN' FOR ALLEY OOP, AN' THEN PRESTO! WE'LL JUST ACQUIRE HIM—

WASH TUBBS

THE MOVIE QUEENS ARE SCARED, SILLY! SEND OUT AN SOS. MAN THE LIFE-BOATS!

OW! HELP!

MY GOSH! EVEN TH' YACHT'S HAUNTED.

SHE'S OUTA CONTROL, SIR. SHE'S DOIN' EVERYTHING BUT RUN SIDEWAYS.

WHERE'S McQUIGGLE?

Paging McQuiggle!

SPEAK UP! WHERE'S McQUIGGLE?

I THINK HE'S IN THE CAPTAIN'S CABIN, SIR. BUT THE DOORS LOCKED, AND NOBODY ANSWERS.

COME ON, PODNER! SMASH IT! IT'S HIGH TIME WE'RE GETTIN' AT THE BOTTOM O' THIS NONSENSE.

Wham!

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

IT MAY BE A NOTION, BUT IT ISN'T A GOOD ONE...ONE OF THESE DAYS YOU'RE GONNA WIND UP BEHIND THE EIGHT BALL!

SOUNDS TO ME LIKE HE'S ALL WOUND UP, RIGHT NOW, FRECK!

IF THAT HISTO-DETECTOR WORKS, I'M GONNA COME HERE AND GIVE BOTH OF YOU GUYS THE BEATIN' OF YOUR LIVES!

Tough Guy!

IT SERVES YOU RIGHT, GETTING THAT SHOCK! NEXT TIME, KEEP YOUR HANDS OFF THINGS THAT DON'T CONCERN YOU...YOU'RE ALWAYS POKING YOUR NOSE WHERE IT ISN'T WANTED!

I GOT A GOOD NOTION TO SOCK YOU ONE!!

WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT NOW? I'LL ACCOMMODATE YOU, CRASH!!

NOW, NOT NOW! I'M BIDIN' MY TIME...IF THE THING WORKS, YOU GUYS'LL BE BIG SHOTS...THE TOAST OF THE TOWN...THEN WHEN I'LL STEP IN...YOU KNOW, A SHIELDED HEAD MAKES A WONDERFUL TARGET!

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

ONE PEEP INTO CURLEY'S GARAGE, WOULD ASSURE 'SMOOTHY' SMITH THAT HIS INTENDED VICTIMS ALREADY ARE NIBBLING AT HIS BAIT.

THAT SURVEYIN' FELLER SAID TH' TOMPkins' COGNERS WOULD BE THE BIG POWER CENTER OF THESE PARTS, AND I'LL TELL YA 'WH—

LAND'LL GO SKY-HIGH, JES' AS HE SAID—I'D LIKE T'BUY A PIECE MYSELF.

IT'S THE BIG CHANCT, ANRIGHT! THERE GONNA BE SOME LAND FER SALE, SOMEWHERE AROUND TH' SLOUGH.

I WOULD, BACK IN THE EIGHTIES, WHEN ROY DOON WAS GONN' TIDAM UP TH' SLOUGH.

THEY WANT ROY, 'TWAHS HIS UNCLE, BILL DOON, I TELL 'EM.

Brainy, the Come-Along!

LISTEN, BRAINY, TALK BIG ABOUT UNLIMITED CAPITAL AND BOOMING LAND VALUES. PAINT A ROSY PICTURE, BUT DON'T COMMIT YOURSELF! AND LEAVE THE REST TO ME.

OKAY—NOW, HEARD ME THAT WIG AND A BIG CIGAR.

W HILE, BACK IN THE CITY, SMOOTHY DRESSES HIS WINDOW.

YOU LOOK LIKE A BILLION DOLLARS—THOSE HICKS WILL FALL FOR YOU, OR SURPRISED.
